Housing, or in other words, the possibility for people with experience of severe mental issues to live in an apartment, is nowadays considered by the scientific community one of the main strategies for recovery and social inclusion.

Housing includes activities that go beyond the boundaries of the apartment and is aimed at local communities as resources for inclusion.

The Tutorial for housing is now ready, and we'd like to share it with you.

<http://www.housing-project.eu/index.php/en/civic-en/civic-tutorial>

The Tutorial collects experiences, ideas, suggestions for setting up good housing projects.

Visit the Tutorial by walking through its 5 rooms: you will find interviews with experts, a story telling of a trek, a survey on housing during covid, information and a Q&A on the training Curriculum on housing.

Happy reading and good housing from all of us!
